President's Message

Geoffrey H. Westrich, MD

Dear Colleagues,

Our 47th Annual Meeting of the Eastern Orthopedic Association will take place in New Orleans at The Ritz-Carlon Hotel from Thursday, October 20th to Saturday, October 22nd, 2016. The Ritz-Carlton New Orleans truly sets the bar for luxury hotels and is located in the French Quarter near the famous Bourbon Street. This hotel features a Southern ambience, luxurious, suites, a stunning spa, and well-designed conference space for our meeting. This is the first time that the Eastern Orthopedic Association will host its Annual Meeting in the city of New Orleans which is well known for the enticing scent of hearty gumbo or jambalaya while listening to the energizing beat of a jazz band. The Ritz-Carlton is only a 30-minute drive from New Orleans International Airport (MSY).

Our scientific program, carefully planned by Dr. Marc J. Levine, Program Chair and the Program Committee, is already well underway with excellent, state-of-the-art symposia and cutting edge podium and poster presentations. Because our meeting is in New Orleans, we have asked our fellow colleagues from LSU, Tulane, and Ochsner programs to join us. In addition, the New Jersey Orthopaedic Society will also be attending. Dr. Thomas Sculco will be my Presidential Guest Speaker and was the former Surgeon-in-Chief of Hospital for Special Surgery and is the current President of the Knee Society. I know his lecture will be insightful and enlightening. Mr. James Carville, a well know political commentator and media personality, will be the Howard Steel Lecturer. Since our meeting is just weeks before the presidential election, I know his talk and question/answer session will be very entertaining and timely. In addition, we will be running a Resident Review Course led by Dr. Frank J. Frassica, an expert in this area, on Thursday afternoon that will be a great prep for the OITE exam that follows a few weeks later.

Our Welcome Reception on Thursday evening, October 20th, will be held at Mardi Gras World which is a main tourist attraction located on the Mississippi River. We will have an opportunity to tour the working warehouse where floats are made for the Mardi Gras parades while listening to New Orleans jazz and eating various food native to New Orleans such as gumbo, shrimp etouffee, and jambalaya! It is an evening you surely don't want to miss.

My wife, Ellen, and the Spouse Committee, have been working tirelessly to plan a great social program, so please plan on bringing your family. Ellen and I hope you will join us in New Orleans for a truly memorable meeting. There will clearly be something for everyone!

Please save the date in your calendars.

Sincerely,

Geoffrey Westrich

Geoffrey H. Westrich, MD
President of Eastern Orthopaedic Association

Howard Steel Lecturer

James Carville

EOA is pleased to welcome James Carville as the 2016 Howard Steel Lecturer. James "The Ragin' Cajun" Carville is America's best-known political consultant. His long list of electoral successes evidences a knack for steering overlooked campaigns to unexpected landslide victories and for re-making political underdogs into upset winners.

In recent years, Carville has not been a paid political consultant for any domestic politicians or candidates for office, instead focusing on campaigns in more than 20 countries around the globe, including leading Ehud Barak to victory in his campaign to become the Prime Minister of Israel in 1999.

Carville is also a best-selling author, actor, producer, talk-show host, speaker and restaurateur. He serves as a Professor of Practice at Tulane University in New Orleans, where he lives with his wife Mary Matalin and their two daughters.

Special Guest Speaker
